01 Executive summary

Promoting growth strategies in an unstable environment

External growth

- Conducted the 6th public offering ^(Note 1) in October 2022 for the first time in 1.5 years
- Acquired 5 properties for JPY 21.9 billion with average appraisal NOI yield of 5.1%, since the 15th FP

Internal growth

- Continued strong performance of KRR's core tenants that deal with daily necessities, even amid the prolonged COVID-19 pandemic
- Increased occupancy rate/contract ratio of the properties acquired with low occupancy rate, through steady progress in leasing

Growth strategies and issues

- While keeping the stability of shopping centers for daily needs as a base, explore the upside potential by increasing sales-linked rent through acquisition of iias Kasugai, which have high ratio of service-oriented tenants ^(Note 2) and sales-linked rent, with a focus on post-pandemic environment
- Expecting a decrease in DPU forecasts due to the impact of rising electricity charges. Aim to reduce such impact by passing on the charges to the tenants

(As of Oct. 31, 2022)

Decision-making process for related-party transactions

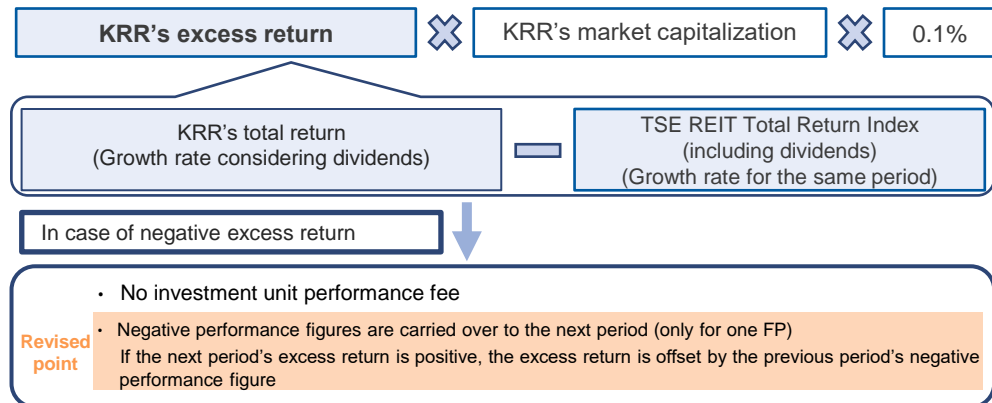

Unitholder value-linked management fee structure

KRR has introduced a fee structure providing incentives to enhance unitholder value

		Fee structure providing incentives to enhance unitholder value
Asset management fee	I	Total assets at the end of the previous FP x 0.27% (annual rate)
	II	Net income x DPU x 0.0013%
Investment unit performance fee		KRR's excess returns over Tokyo Stock Exchange REIT Total Return Index (including dividends) x Market capitalization x 0.1%
Acquisition fee		Acquisition price x 1.0% (Including acquisition of buildings through property expansion or reconstruction)
Disposition fee		Disposition price x 0.5%
Merger fee		Appraisal value of the assets to be succeeded x 1.0% (maximum)

The investment unit performance fee structure

- The purpose of the revision in Dec. 2021 is to increase the linkage between unitholder returns and the asset management fee
- Revised the method of calculation to factor in a case where KRR's investment unit prices underperform the TSE REIT Index

Investment criteria

Focus on the following four elements in making investment decisions:

Attractiveness <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ability to serve particular day-to-day needs of local area customers 	Location <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Demographic composition, number of households, competing facilities in local retail trade area
Profitability <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Occupancy, leasing status, rent level and lease term 	Tenant mix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Optimal tenant mix for the property considering tenant credit profiles and retail space usage

Primary geographic target areas

- Four major metropolitan areas, which have relatively stable populations
- Selective investments in ordinance-designated cities, core cities and other areas for diversification

Target portfolio distribution (based on acquisition price)

Distribution centers
Other retail facilities
20% or less

Investment in land - Seeking additional growth opportunities

We also seek investment opportunities in the underlying land of retail properties and distribution centers

- Strong demand from retail tenants (the majority of buildings on land-only properties held by J-REITs are retail facilities)
- Maintain maximum value upon termination of lease term, as the land is expected to be returned in its original state
- Investment in lands would be limited to 20% of the portfolio (based on acquisition price) as our general policy

Beneficial relationship for both Asset Manager and tenants

Advantages to Asset Manager

- Generation of long-term stable rents due to a decrease of vacancy risks because tenants will own buildings pursuant to fixed-term land lease agreements
- Stabilization of rent revenue as tenants will pay maintenance costs related to the buildings on such land
- Improvement of payout ratio as depreciation costs of buildings are borne by tenants
- Limited downside risk related to their asset value caused by external factors, such as fires

Advantages to tenants

- Tenants that are both the lessee and property owner bear a smaller financial burden when opening a store
- Increased capital efficiency through treatment of land as off-balance sheet
- Simplified procedures for interior renovation of buildings

Note: Target areas for distribution centers include locations near expressways or major public highways and easy access to a major metropolitan area or an ordinance-designated city and core city.

Retail property trends and macroeconomic conditions

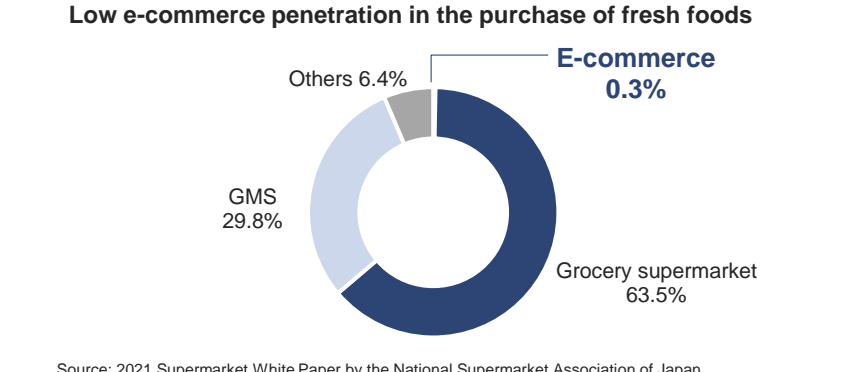

Shrinking retail trade area due to aging and concentrating population in Japan

Changing retail facilities

Shopping centers for daily needs are highly resistant to e-commerce
